

Outline

Topic:

Whether the government should increase investment in helping drug addicts reintegrate into society?

Introduction:

Among the current number of drug addicts in our country, those aged 18-35 accounted for 60.5%. So we have to pay more attention to increasingly serious drug problem, try to find a effective way to solve this problem.

Thesis statement:

The government should increase investment in helping drug addicts reintegrate into society.

Organization:

Problem-solution

Main points:

- 1.The direction and achievements of our government's current drug rehabilitation funds. (This analysis points to reasons why the government needs to invest more in helping addicts return to society)
2. The impact of increased investment in helping addicts return to society.(Why is it spending more on helping addicts get back into society)

Conclusion:

The government should increase investment in helping drug addicts reintegrate into society